FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Target Distributing Appointed as Nationwide Allworx Distributor

Leading distributor of converged and IP-centric technologies adds the complete Allworx product line as a complement to their portfolio of proven solutions

Germantown, MD and Rochester, NY, July 28, 2014 - Target Distributing (www.targetd.com), a leading national distributor of converged and IP-centric technologies, is pleased to announce that today they have signed an agreement with Allworx (www.allworx.com), a Windstream company (NASDAQ: WIN) and award-winning developer of Internet Protocol (IP) phone and network systems, making Target an Authorized Distributor of the complete line of Allworx products.

Target is a nationwide distributor of advanced technologies including voice over IP solutions and datacom products. They specialize in personalized service with corporate commitments to competitive pricing, product availability, and outstanding customer support. Target will carry the entire Allworx product line which consists of its advanced VoIP premise-based PBX systems, integrated IP telephones, and IP switches. These products can accommodate a wide range of communications needs for small and medium sized businesses.

“Allworx will be a natural fit for our customers, many of whom are making the transition to offering VoIP-based communications products that can take advantage of modern technology and SIP trunking,” said Michael Momsen, President and CEO of Target. “We are excited by Allworx’s approach to effortless communications, and we believe there is great opportunity for resellers looking to offer Allworx communications solutions.”

“Target shares many of the basic corporate values Allworx embraces, including customer focus, value, reliability and quality, so we’re confident in their ability to be a strong distribution partner,” said Chris Hasenauer, President of Allworx. “By combining the expanding Allworx product set, including the recent introduction of new Allworx mobility products, with Target’s long history of success in the telecommunications industry, we believe we have made it even easier for our Allworx partners to be successful.”
